

YASMEEN GREEN

Sitting down with Yasmeen Green, Holy Rosary Class of 2006, confirmed what we are accomplishing on the north side of Jacksonville. In a word, Excellence.

Yasmeen is now a Junior at Bolles School, maintaining a “A-B” average.
She is enjoying the diversity of the student population and has made many new friends.

Not only is Yasmeen holding her own academically, she also plays outfield on the school softball team and participates in Pathfinders in her west side church..

Rose Hanson, Yasmeen’s mother, takes her to school daily, a 30 minute drive each way. Occasionally she’ll gets a ride with a friend.

Rose doesn’t consider this a sacrifice but a blessing.
She is very aware of the opportunity her daughter has been given by receiving this scholarship. Her face shows the gratitude better than any words could express.

Yasmeen aspires to be a pediatrician and minor in child psychology. She prays daily for the Lord’s guidance, spends the summers playing tennis and caring for her little sister, Lydia Rose.

When asked what she’d like for Christmas, “Nothing in particular” was the answer. She received everything she wanted at a recent Sweet 16 Birthday party. She suggested that she not get gifts for her 14th and 15th birthdays in order to have the Sweet 16 Party she’d been dreaming of, which she did.

Growing up she desired books, clothes and shoes as presents versus toys and games.

Yasmeen’s hope for the future is to attend an Ivy League college or University of Florida. She looks forward to a future that will allow her to return all the gifts she has been given.

She credits Holy Rosary for giving her the educational and spiritual foundation needed for a successful and positive future. There is no doubt we will see much more of her and we wish DeAndrea the very best the future has to offer.
